

13th Annual Postgraduate Forum Conference
School of History, Classics and Archaeology

‘Individuals and Communities’

9.00 – 9.15 Tea and Coffee

Panel 1

Chair: Lauren Emslie

9.15 – 9:45 George Scratcherd (University of Oxford)
The four horsemen of the AME Church: ‘Great Men’ and the challenges of black church historiography.

9.45 – 10.15 James Mullen (Newcastle University)
God, King, and the Land: The relationship between Neo-Assyrian Kings, their subjects and the God Aššur.

10.15 – 10.45 Alberto Cafaro (University of Pisa)
Praefecti fabrum and Roman politics.

10.45 – 11.15 Tom Whitfield (Newcastle University)
“Wilkes and Liberty”—Punch bowls and the later-eighteenth-century Wilkite agitations.

11.15 – 11.30 Tea and Coffee

Panel 2

Chair: Amy Shields

11.30 – 12.00 Mareike Ahlers (Newcastle University)
All for One and One for All—Identifying heterarchical structures in Early Neolithic barrow building communities.

12.00 – 12.30 Henry Clarke (University of Leeds)
Negotiating individual identities within the community in Central Spain, 2nd century BC – 2nd century AD.

12.30 – 1.00 Kate Caraway (University of Liverpool)
Group size and community cohesion in Archaic Greece: Towards a methodology.

1.00 – 2.00 Lunch and poster session

Panel 3

Chair: Lucy Cummings

- 2.00 – 2.30 John Bowman (Newcastle University)
Derwentcote Forge Cottages: A steel making community in the Derwent Valley 1841-1891.
- 2.30 – 3.00 Lawrence Mills (University of Glasgow)
The University of Glasgow's "Old College".
- 3.00 – 3.30 David Astbury (Newcastle University)
Can path creation theory restore the agency of individuals and communities in the past?
- 3.30 – 4.00 Andrew Marriott (Newcastle University)
Entrenched Views. Accessing the people of the First World War through Material Culture
- 4.00 – 4.30 Tea and Coffee
- 4.30 – 5.30 Keynote: Dr Valentina Arena (UCL)
- 5.45 Reception and prize giving